National Guard To Arrive in July

The Michigan National Guard will begin arriving in camp here July 6th, at which time the supply detachment will make its appearance. On the 10th, the State Staff detachment will be here, and after that, the various units will be coming in daily until the 23d when the last of the force will have pulled in. By that time, some of the earlier units will be gone, as each group only stays 15 days, but these last companies will be here until the 9th of August when camp will break up.

The familiar and picturesque special trains with their capacity loads of grinning soldier boys, will be no more. Instead, the entire National Guard has been motorized, and the special trains have given way to long caravans of olive drab Chevrolet trucks, station wagons, and ambulances. In all, there will be between 200 and 300 of these to carry the boys here and back and for use in maneuvers.

All that is scheduled to come by rail this year is, the horses for the 106th Cavalry, and the cannons and heavy equipment of the 182nd Field Artillery.

As the plans are at present, the various units will arrive in the following order:

July 6th—Supply detachment.

July 10th—State Staff Detachment.

July 10th and 11th—Motorcycle Corps, from Midland; 119th Field Artillery.

July 11th and 12th—182nd Field Artillery.

July 12th and 13th—Ordnance Company.

July 13th and 14th—Headquarters, 32nd Division; five companies of special troops; Signal Corps, and Medical Detachment.

July 14th and 15th—8 Companies of the 125th Field Artillery.

July 16th and 17th—5 Companies of the 125th Infantry.

July 17th and 18th—63d Brigade.

July 18th and 19th—Aviation Division; 126th Infantry, 5 Companies; 107th Medical Division.

July 20th and 21st—Medical Detachment, 3 Companies.

July 21st and 22nd—106th Cavalry.

July 22nd and 23d—Medical Division, 7 Companies.

This year the camp will be about the same size as always, with about 4,500 officers and enlisted men, taking the 15 day training period. The date for the Governor's Review has not been set, as yet, but it is that it will be somewhere near the 20th of July.

Alvin M. Henderson vs. Harry A. Shook, bill of dissolution and appointment of receiver.

Richard Thompson vs. Bernice Thompson, divorce.

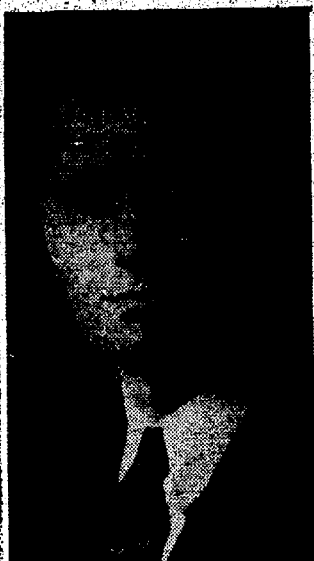

Legion Jottings

The second drill of the Bugle and Drum Corps took place Monday evening at the school gym. A large attendance and a brisk workout was had. The boys have to get down to real drilling in order to be able to appear in public. Everyone in the Corps should realize that you cannot practice too much. "Practice makes Perfect" so let's all get behind the instructors and no fooling.

The Bugle and Drum Corps will present a comedy drama entitled "The Poor Married Man" within the next three or four weeks and according to all accounts the people who attend want to be prepared for many hearty laughs, because it is really comical. Watch for the bills and definite date to follow. This show will be followed up in the near future with an old time minstrel show. We have had some local people already agree to help us out with their talent, why not some more.

Every day the homecoming is drawing nearer, so all you people who have any addresses of people who have lived here in former years please send in to Clarence Johnson as soon as possible. We want to extend invitations to all the people we can get in touch with.

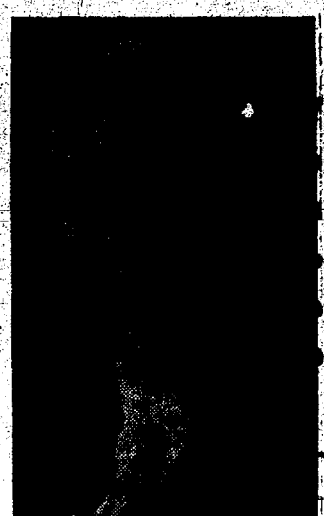

Oscar Parsons was down from Frederic Monday night and he is more than pleased to know the Legion has formed a Corps. He says he is busy now making maple syrup from his sugar bush but as soon as that is over he will surely be with us. Good for you Oscar. Bring your neighbor ex-service men with you. They are welcome.

Republicans Sweep Into State Offices

LOSE BUT TWO TOWNSHIP OFFICES

Incumbent Supervisors Re-Elected Few Close Contests.

Michigan voters showed their confidence in the Republican party and Republican leaders when it again voted itself into that party column by overwhelming majorities. All Republican candidates for state offices were elected by an average majority of 2 to 1, and even the much boosted Paul F. Voelker, Democratic candidate for the office of superintendent of public instruction, was decisively defeated by Maurice Keyworth the Republican candidate.

Samuel Smith, democratic candidate for the office of township clerk, had a comfortable margin over Carl Sorenson, the republican candidate, and P. W. Christenson, democrat, slipped into the office of member of the board of review by defeating Dan Babbitt by three votes.

The Republicans appropriated the remainder of the township offices. Fred Niederer, Republican, more than doubled his vote over Theodore Leslie, Democrat, for supervisor, and Ernest Borchers, Republican, has better than 100 majority over Carlyle Brown, Democrat, for township treasurer. There was but a small vote out in Grayling and only 442 votes were cast. 206 straight Republican state tickets were cast and 144 Democratic; 15 were blank. There were 98 straight Republican and 72 straight Democratic tickets cast in township ballots. Most of the Republican splits seemed to be for Sam Smith for clerk.

The amendment carried by 240 yes and 114 no in Grayling township and in the county 479 yes and 244 no.

All of the present incumbents of the office of supervisor in the several townships were re-elected. There were a few cases of very close contests. In Frederic township George Horton, Republican, was victor over Lyle Duckley, Peoples party candidate by a margin of six votes.

In Maple Forest township Alfred Hummel, non-partisan candidate had a close call when Chester Lozon-missed the tieing vote by one.

Clean-up Day Friday, April 19

Mt. Pleasant, April 2—Friday, April 19, will be "cleanup day" all along the 230 mile stretch of Taft highway running from St. Johns to Cheboygan.

This date has been set by the officers of the recently organized U. S. 27 Beautification association, announces President C. C. Barnes, who is registrar at Central State Teachers college.

"Paint your mailbox and your buildings if you can, bury the refuse, tear down old signs, slick everything up, and plant flowers, vines and tree seedlings at that time" advises Mr. Barnes.

Help and advice are coming from all sides in the campaign to make Taft highway "the road beautiful."

Dan Henry, Michigan forester for Clinton, Isabella and Gratiot counties, urges each township to consider donating of land for a tourist rest camp. Signs, tables, stoves, refuse barrels and maintenance will all be contributed by the state highway department for such roadside parks, points out Mr. Henry.

William Krell, Clare county resident, urges the planting of fruit trees whose produce would be free to wayfarers. The U. S. 27 association has also decided to stimulate planting of petunias and zinnias to further the transformation into a continuous bower of beauty.

To help in the fulfillment of the slogan coined for the association by Al Weber, Cheboygan editor, "Make US-27 the main street of Michigan," clubs all along the route are preparing to get behind "cleanup day" with offers of prizes to property owners who make the most improvement possible and to those whose property looks the best.

The first school along the route to be beautified as a result of this drive is the Crowley school south of Mt. Pleasant. Miss Mae Brown of the extension division of Michigan State college, is directing that beautification. The Kiwanians of Mt. Pleasant are engaged in beautifying the ravine and Chippewa river bed north of this city. The American Legion of Clare are marking and improving the hilltop five miles north of Clare.

Local officers are extending thanks to Michigan newspapers in general but most especially to every paper published along the line of U. S. 27 for news and editorial support of the drive for beautification. Without the remarkable cooperation that we have had" points out Mr. Barnes, "the present organization and impending achievements would be impossible."

Rev. Zoller Succumbs To Pneumonia

Members of the congregation of Michelson Memorial church and the people of Grayling in general are mourning the sudden passing of their pastor Rev. Elliott William Zoller that occurred at his home at 2:00 o'clock Saturday morning. Death was due to pneumonia after a week's illness. Dr. Simpson, physician of the Zoller family when they resided in Pontiac, was called here Friday in consultation with local physicians, but little hope could be held out for his recovery.

Rev. Zoller came to Grayling from Pontiac last October and took the pastorate of the local church, and he and his family were just getting nicely acquainted.

During that short time Rev. Zoller had been doing excellent work in the church. He was very conscientiously working toward the end that everyone in Grayling should attend some church. He was the leader in the movement in Grayling to "Go to church Sunday." In this he had the support of every minister in town.

Funeral services were held at Michelson Memorial church Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock and a very large congregation was present to pay their last respects. Rev. John Zoller of the Wesleyan M. E. church of Detroit and a cousin of the deceased gave the scripture reading, following which Rev. Shugg of Gaylord offered prayer. Dr. Sidney Eysa, district superintendent of the Saginaw Bay district delivered a very impressive sermon and Chaplain E. W. Todd gave the benediction. Members of the church board were the pallbearers. During the service Rev. and Mrs. Shugg of Gaylord sang a duet and the choir rendered two numbers. Following the services the family left for Detroit where a second service was held Monday afternoon at Wesleyan M. E. church where Rev. John Zoller and eleven other ministers took part in a beautiful service at which there were many friends present from Pontiac, Detroit and Canada. Interment was in Detroit.

Rev. Zoller's birthplace was near London, Canada and he was 45 years of age. Surviving besides his widow and two children, George Elliot age 10 and Mary Jane 8, are his parents and several brothers and sisters. His passing marks the first break in the Zoller family circle.

The sincere sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Zoller and children in their sad bereavement.

Wildcats 5 1

Businessmen 3 3

Chiefs 2 4

Masons 2 4

The Wildcats combined good pitching and hitting to down the Chiefs, 5-1, in the first game Tuesday evening. Gothro pitched nice ball all the way and kept the hits well scattered. Broadbent pitched good ball for the losers, but allowed the winners to bunch their hits.

In the second game of the evening the Masons came out on the long end of the score, 7-5. Erlick and Larson were the battery for the Masons. The Masons scored in the 1st, 3rd, and 5th innings, netting seven runs. The Businessmen were blanked in all innings but the fourth, when they scored three runs. Wheeler and Brown were the battery for the losers.

Thursday evening the Businessmen met the Chiefs and the winner of this contest plays the Wildcats in the play-offs next week.

Anyone wishing to witness these games are welcome.

KIWANIANS HEAR HILL ON INCOME TAXES

The Kiwanians were privileged to hear William Hill of the Kerry & Hanson Flooring Co. give a talk on income taxation at its meeting Wednesday. He gave his audience many ideas of how income taxes may be lawfully avoided and how the evasion of payment of income taxes differed from the former and is classed as illegal and criminal. He considered that the officials of the revenue department and their agents are honest and only desire that reports are correct, and they are, said, just as glad to return overpaid income tax remittances as they are to collect those that have been underpaid by error or otherwise. While Mr. Hill had but a few hours for preparation of his talk he gave a very interesting discussion of a subject that is usually a very dry one.

Don Charron and Sam Gust of Grayling High were guests of the club and gave a resume of what they heard at the Taft highway meeting held at Mt. Pleasant recently. The former confined his remarks chiefly to suggestions offered on conservation. Sam related the matters that came up for the beautification of U. S. 27. Each quoted Editor Al Weber, of Cheboygan, chairman of the Mt. Pleasant meeting, who said "Make U. S. 27 the Main Street of Michigan." Both boys gave good talks and their efforts were well received and appreciated by the Kiwanians present.

The several standing committees of the club made reports of their activities. The program committee promised some very interesting features for coming programs. Next Wednesday Dr. Laughton of the District Health department of the Couzens fund, will be the principal speaker. The week following Merton Wright will occupy the program. This latter was scheduled for this week but was out of the city and unable to return in time for the meeting.

PINCHES BROTHER-IN-LAW

Relationship doesn't make any difference with Sheriff Bennett when it comes to law enforcement. His brother-in-law Ernest Warner of 1676 Wilson avenue, Detroit seemed to feel that because his wife's brother was sheriff that he could do anything he wanted to do. On Sunday, it is reported, he seemed to flagrantly disregard traffic speed regulations in town and was reported to the sheriff. The latter arrived upon the scene and soon Warner was in jail. The following day he appeared before Justice Carl Jensen and plead guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $35.00 and $5.85 costs in lieu of a 60 day jail sentence.

FISH HATCHERY DISGRACE TO MICHIGAN!

While Grayling Trout hatchery has one of the best opportunities of any hatchery in Michigan, still it appears that it has been shamefully neglected. Its efficiency, due to lack of equipment and conveniences is impaired, while natural resources for trout hatching and culture are but partially utilized. As for attractiveness the hatchery building is anything but slightly. The outdoor rearing ponds are nothing better than a series of channels with grass and mud banks. There is water aplenty for natural trout hatching and culture, and there is lots of room for buildings and a layout of lands that with assistance of landscaping would make this hatchery the best in Michigan in efficiency, convenience and beauty.

It is gratifying to find that an effort is being made to bring the hatchery a new setting—new buildings, modern rearing ponds, caretaker's home, landscaping and many other features. The present hatchery buildings should be replaced by a modern structure and located at the place that is now occupied by the garage. There is an abundant supply of artesian water to use for hatching purposes. A new roadway entering the park would be constructed and ample parking space provided for those employed at the park and for visitors. The bank on the west side of the park would be cut down and landscaped. A modern but small home would be provided for the hatchery superintendent and his family, and there would be rest rooms for public use.

Already, at the request of some of our local citizens, effort is being made for the improvement of the Grayling hatchery, and we are receiving the finest kind of cooperation from the State Department of Conservation. That department has had plans drawn up to cover all the proposed improvements and application has been made to the PWA for funds for doing the work. Now all that is necessary, it is claimed, is for the people here in Grayling and others who may have an interest in the hatchery is to get back of the project and see to it that it is endorsed and approved by our local and state welfare commissions. The plans have already been approved by the Conservation department and the federal PWA commission. They call for an expenditure of about $25,000.00 and as this is a preferred project it should be easily put thru.

At the Kiwanis club meeting Wednesday noon "President" Clippert appointed a committee with Fred Welsh as chairman to handle the matter.

Do You Know—

That "pin money" is an expression that has been handed down to us from the earliest ages. The importation of pins into England was forbidden (1483) but Queen Catherine (of Aragon) received hers from France. They were very expensive and with the ladies "pin money" was a consideration.

Week At Lansing

(By FRANK D. BROWN, Special Correspondent)

The 58th legislature enters the third month of its deliberation with little accomplished behind it. Looking back over the past 12 weeks one sees a sad picture in which procrastination, partisan squabbling, job scrambling and vote swapping are the highlights. A sad picture, indeed, but the opportunity still exists for the lawmakers to redeem themselves and salvage from the wreck something helpful to Michigan citizens and taxpayers. If this is done, however, it will have to be within the coming two or three weeks as already these warm spring days have begun to have their effect, causing members to turn their thoughts to the work awaiting them on the farm or back in the office.

April 8 would be set as the final date for the introduction of new bills if a resolution now before the senate is adopted. This is the first indication that the solons may close up shop and go home by the end of the month. If it is approved the adjournment should follow within a few weeks.

Both houses recessed Thursday afternoon until next Tuesday in order that members might return to their districts for the spring election.

The unpopularity of the NRA was brought to the front in the house late this week when many congressmen joined their republican colleagues in defeating the Nicholas-Baginski bill which would have created a state industrial recovery administration to coordinate the work of the national administration. The measure was intended to permit the governor, with the consent of various industries, to impose codes regulating fair trade practices, wages, working hours, etc.

Repeal of the old age pension act passed in 1933 and the setting up of a new pension system in the state is accomplished by a bill which has passed the senate. The farcical $2 head-tax imposed by the old law and which few people ever paid is eliminated by the new proposal. The pensions, estimated to require in the neighborhood of $4,000,000 annually, would be financed by direct treasury appropriation. As sent to the house, the measure allows maximum pensions of $30 a month to eligible persons of 70 years of age or over. Among other requirements specified is that of citizenship, residence in the state for 10 years, and the pensioner cannot possess real estate of valuation in excess of $3,500.

The controversial school aid bill providing for $25,000,000 a year to finance the state's public schools has gone through the House with colors flying despite efforts of Rep. Vern Brown (R), Mason to reduce the figure and in the face of almost certain veto in case it is passed by the senate in its present form. There is a strong likelihood that the senate will not concur in the amount, if such should happen, Gov. Fitzgerald has been quite outspoken regarding his intention to exercise his veto power and in all probability will do so.

Rep. Brown, who is chairman of the House taxation committee, attempted to have the appropriation reduced to $20,000,000 annually but secured only scant support. On final roll call the bill was approved 91 to 4.

The last vestige of the state property tax is now assured of removal with the signature of the governor to the two bills repealing the mill taxes for the support of the University of Michigan and Michigan State College. The measures eliminate the 6-10 mill tax the former institution and the 2-10 mill tax for the latter, both of which constituted a $3,500,000 levy.

Aid for distressed property owners is promised by the Nichols bill now before the House. The proposed legislation would cancel penalties on delinquent 1933 taxes providing they are paid before December 1, 1935. There would be one percent collection fee, however, Special assessment taxes are not included in the provisions of the bill.

A thrust of high salaries paid state officers and circuit judges, has been made by Senator Leon Case. Watervliet newspaper publisher and democratic floor leader, who sponsors five bills calling for sharp reductions among the "big money" class of public servants.

Among those affected by the Case proposals are: state highway commissioner from $7,000 to $6,000; securities commissioner from $7,000 to $4,000; utilities commissioners from $7,000 to $5,000; justices of the supreme court, $8,000 to $6,000; circuit judges, $5,000 to $4,000; and the superintendent of public instruction from $6,000 to $5,000.

Similar attempts to "get at" the high salaried state officers have been made in the past but got nowhere. Department heads are too well entrenched behind a bulwark of patronage connections to permit the success of any such raid on their salaries. The average legislator is inclined to think twice before supporting measures of this sort and thereby jeopardize the chances of relatives and friends continuing on state payrolls. Senator Case's proposals without question contain plenty of merit, but will likely die in committee.

The first of the budget bills, indicating the approach of adjournment, has come from the House ways and means committee and provides for the outlay of $20,175,068 during the first fiscal year and $20,189,188 for the fiscal year 1936-37 for general state purposes. The measure includes $12,000,000 a year for welfare. Institutional and departmental appropriations will be made in separate bills yet to be introduced.

READ POEMS AT PONTIAC CLUB MEETING

The following item was taken from the Pontiac Daily, following a reading of her poems by Mrs. Mollie Michelson before the Tuesday Musical club at Pontiac.

Since Mrs. Mollie Michelson read poems of her own last year on a similar program presented by the club, many have waited to hear her again. Those given by her Tuesday were new to her audience but found just as responsive a chord as those of a year ago. What an appreciation of all manner of things she has, what a sense of values, and what a grasp of latent or hidden meaning in common place things is revealed in her poems.

Between Mrs. McPhee's groups of songs, Mrs. Michelson read 10 poems, each with a little explanatory note that brought them closer to her hearers. The second of this group was "Contemplation" which gives one an insight into her mental horizons. One could not call it a hobby with Mrs. Michelson to write these lovely things, for they are such an intimate part of her and come to her from an environment or contact that impels creation.

Mother's Cook Book

VARIETY IN THE MENU

FOR a luncheon menu after preparing the salad of crisp lettuce, french dressing with a few sections of grapefruit or pineapple, sprinkle it with a handful of good nuts—peanuts, almonds, pecans or hickory nuts—any nut will be good and supply the protein which is needed for the well-balanced menu. With a slice of whole wheat bread and a glass of milk, this makes a good meal.

Creamed Finnan Haddock.

There should be one and one-half cupsful of the fish, flake or break into small bits, after soaking in water. Remove all bone and skin. Make a white sauce as usual, add the fish and simmer for ten minutes. Halve crosswise large, fresh, green peppers and remove the seeds and veins. Scald with boiling water and drain well. Fill with the creamed fish, cover with buttered crumbs and place the peppers in gum pans to hold their shape. Bake ten minutes or until well heated and the crumbs are well browned. Salmon, tuna, or cooked fresh fish well seasoned may be used in place of the haddock. Garnish with rice, hard-cooked egg and chop the whites and use a border around the edge of the pepper for a more fancy and nutritious dish.

French Potato Soup.

Slice a large potato or two, an onion or two—one may vary the proportions depending on the number to be served. Slice the onions and put them to cook in two tablespoonfuls of butter. When a golden brown add them to the potatoes which are covered with boiling water, cook until soft. Season, add hot milk and serve.

Jelly Hint.

Use the fruit left in the bag when draining for jelly to make jam. If carefully looked over and the fruit is fresh, it will make most acceptable jams. By adding an orange, a few nuts, one will have a nice conserve.

You do 80% of your driving within 25 miles of your doorstep

This Stop-and-Go driving wastes your money if your gasoline hasn't Three distinct Kinds of Power

THE average car today is continually DASHING BACK AND FORTH within a few miles of home—starting . . . stopping . . . warming up—time after time.

This calls for 3 kinds of power in your gasoline—POWER for quick starting, POWER for acceleration, POWER for steady runs. Unless you have these three types of power—and unless they are in PERFECT BALANCE—you're wasting money.

Super-Shell can give you these 3 types of power—and can cut your driving costs 3 ways—for Super-Shell is the first truly balanced gasoline—

SUPER-SHELL saves on today's Stop-and-Go driving

Can save up to a cupful of gasoline on every "Cold" Start. Super-Shell starts instantly—often warms up in half the time of ordinary gasolines—with less wasteful choking.

Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in 10 Minutes of Hard Pulling. Because of Super-Shell's even volatility, you can accelerate rapidly, or race your car up steep hills—on less gasoline, without wasteful knocking.

Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in One Hour of Steady Running. Every drop of Super-Shell vaporizes more completely at every engine temperature. So it saves on long runs, too.

THESE THREE BIG SAVINGS of gasoline naturally result in more mileage per tankful! Try Super-Shell today . . . at no extra cost!

Camp NewsCamp Higgins

About 90 officers on CCC duty in lower peninsula of Michigan gathered at Camp Higgins Lake last Thursday for instructions relative to administration under the reorganized plan with Camp Custer as the base. The meeting was addressed by Major Alexander Stark the district commander; Major Sawyer, the district medical officer; and Capt. Stewart of Camp Custer. Possible plans for the expansion of the CCC in Michigan were also discussed.

Capt. Sam McCullough, who has been district commander here since the departure of Capt. Betts in December, has been ordered to Camp Custer about the 15th of April, where he will be executive officer for Major Stark in the CCC work. This is a position of considerable responsibility. Lieut. S. H. Cropp of the Pioneer camp is also detailed to Camp Custer as personnel officer.

An award of 32 first aid certificates to members of this organization, who recently completed their first aid instruction, was made by Capt. Murphy at supper Friday evening of last week. The class was taught by Lieut. M. C. Igloe, and included in its enrollment many of the foremen and MECW technicians who make Camp Higgins Lake their headquarters.

Friday, April 5th, will mark the second anniversary of the CCC organization. The occasion will be observed at Camp Higgins Lake by a special dinner and a short program of speeches.

Enrollment of rookies to fill vacancies caused by recent discharges has been postponed pending action of Congress on the emergency relief act bill. Failure to pass the act by Saturday night gave the CCC organization no official status. The eventual passage of the bill was conceded by most everyone concerned, however, and the authorization of subsistence and medical care was made until the fate of the bill is known.

In compliment to the 41 men who were discharged Saturday of last week for expiration of their enrollment with the CCC, a special stunt edition of the camp paper was issued, called "The Happy Daze." This publication carried several April fool features, a will, and the usual things found in a high school annual. It was much appreciated by the men.

"The Personal Touch" is the topic of Capt. E. W. Todd's sermon in the camp this week.

Camp Supt. M. S. Gerred has been working on projects for Camp Higgins Lake for many months to come. He plans to do work that requires most travelling during the summer months when roads are good, and work nearer camp is contemplated for next winter. All work projects have to be approved by the state ECW authorities before CCC labor can be used.

Circulation of the camp library was 406 books for the month of March, the largest in the camp's history. Western and detective stories are most popular.

Camp Au Sable

Some enrollees apparently don't appreciate the honor of being dollar-a-year men (less the dollar) for Uncle Sam. At any rate, some who were staying decided to leave on learning that their pay from April first would be contingent on Congressional action. With 48 men leaving, our company strength is down to 118.

We are sorry to see our forester Mr. Demmick leave us, but rejoice in his appointment as superintendent of Camp Johannesburg.

Mr. Richard Holland is now full-time educational adviser to Camp Hartwick Pines. Until recently he had both Camp Pines and Camp AuSable. On March 23rd Mr. Haven Hubbard was transferred from Camp Ghost Creek in northern Wisconsin to be full-time adviser to Camp AuSable. With full-time instruction now available, watch the brain-trusters sprout.

Lieutenant Allen is back from a ten-day leave in which he visited Coopersville, and points east, north, south, and west.

Butch Diehlman, our Army truck driver, one of the hardest specimens in the north woods, finally and suddenly surrendered to a cantankerous appendix. With his usual fortitude he allowed Dr. Raff to renew his surgical practice. His faith was well rewarded as the operation performed by Dr. Raff assisted by Dr. Igloe was a ripping success, and Butch is well on his way to recovery. Only a week under the knife, Butch already claims he is ready to get back to his "beloved" Dodge.

Since our boiler blew up a couple of weeks ago, some of us have been waiting a long time for a hot bath. Reports from headquarters indicate that our new high-test boiler will be in operation again by the end of this week. Then watch the suds fly.

YOU AND I TOGETHER

By ANNE CAMPBELL

YOU and I together
Have shared adversity.
Our faith has tumbled mountains
Of care into the sea.
We've faced small tribulations
With laughter in each heart;
But what has life to offer
For you and me apart?

You and I together
Are strong to conquer Fate.
But separate, how stony
The path to heaven's gate!
I do not fear life's sorrows.
But I should miss the start.
And never reach the hilltop.
With you and me, apart!

Question Box By ED WYNN The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a man twenty-four years of age and extremely bashful. I am madly in love with a girl my own age and would like to marry her, but I am too bashful to even broach the subject. I will never get over my bashfulness, and do not know what to do. Can you give me an idea that will help me?

Yours truly,
O. B. O'GOBBE

Answer: The next time you call on her get the conversation switched around to the different kinds of drinks there are in the world. Then each of you take turns asking each other which drink you prefer. Now you're all set. When she asks you: "Do you like tea?" turn to her and say: "Yes, but I like the next letter better."

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a boy eleven years old and in the sixth grade in public school. I have to write a story about the most unusual animal in the world. Please tell me what it is and why, will you?

Yours truly,
I. HATEORITE

Answer: The most unusual animal in the whole world is "a man," because a man is the only animal that can be "skinned" more than once.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
A friend of mine just failed in business. I went to his house to express my sympathy. During our conversation he said he was arranging matters so his creditors wouldn't bother him. Do you think he means he is going to get out of debt?

Yours truly,
LALLY POP.

Answer: No, he means he is going to get out of town.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
How can people tell when a bank has "busted"?

Sincerely,
I. O. PLENTY.

Answer: They generally can tell when they hear the "report."

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a young and rather attractive looking blond girl. I am in love and go with a handsome boy about my own age. He is a professional baseball player. My mother says it is wrong for me to go with a baseball player, as he is in a wicked business. Is this true?

Sincerely,
A. FOUL.

Answer: Tell your mother base ball is not wicked. If she looks in the Bible she will read: "Rebecca took a pitcher to the well."

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I went to the circus yesterday, and in one of the side shows there was a skeleton of a horse. The man said it was the skeleton of a horse that was ridden by "Richard the Third." I am a student of Shakespeare and I was surprised at this, as I always understood he didn't have a horse; in fact, he offered his kingdom for a horse. What do you think of the situation?

Yours truly,
ELLA PHANT.

Answer: Very simple. The skeleton you saw is of the horse he offered his kingdom for.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
A friend of mine told me he knew an Italian count who went up in an airplane and fell out. He claims the Italian changed his nationality before he reached the earth. How could that happen?

Sincerely,
O. BOY.

Answer: The fellow went up an "Italian," he fell out of the airplane probably onto some telegraph wires and came down a "Pole."

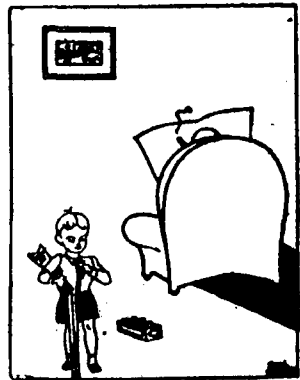

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am going to the seashore next summer for my vacation. I have been advised to go to Atlantic City, but was told to be sure to never go in the ocean after a big meal. That sounds ridiculous to me, so I seek your knowledge on the subject. Why should I not go into the ocean after a hearty meal?

Sincerely,
O. WEED.

Answer: The reason you were told never to go in the ocean after a hearty meal is simply because you will never find one there.

Screen Star Builds Miniature Doll House

THE doll house of Colleen Moore, screen star, is a fairy castle of incomparable beauty—a work of love which has made the world's most exquisite and costly toy a veritable shrine to the little god of miniature. Created by a score of famous artisans over a period of nine years and at a cost of $485,000, the enchanted capital of fairyland soon is to be booked on a world tour for millions to see. Proceeds from exhibitions throughout the United States and abroad will be donated to hospitals for crippled children. By this means more than $1,000,000 will be realized from showings which will require a three-year schedule of bookings in every city in the United States and all foreign capitals. Constructed of aluminum and copper with fantastic angles and sky-sweeping turrets and steeples, no semblance of architectural convention is found in this giant abode of little people. Resting on the summit of a rugged precipice, the castle, which is nine feet wide and nine feet long, rises four hundred feet into the air and weighs approximately 6,000 pounds. The house, excepting rivets, contains more than 200,000 pieces, being a mechanical marvel of unprecedented intricacy, yet practicability. Equipped throughout with mechanical wonders in miniature, the house boasts of a solid golden cathedral organ fifteen inches high, which plays through an elaborate electrical system via remote control. Miss Moore's famous doll house also has the world's smallest electric light bulbs, each being the size of a grain of wheat and imbedded in sockets with the circumference of pinheads, in a golden chandelier, strung with glittering, pear-shaped diamonds. The doll house, wired with an electrical system requiring months of labor and experimentation, is controlled with a series of transformers and switches for each room. All lighting, with the exception of floodlighting in the gardens, is indirect, with more than 400 small-watt bulbs being utilized in the system. Water tanks on turrets and in the dungeons of the castle feed live fountains in the kitchen, garden and bathrooms. The tanks, on emptying, play beautiful chimes in the steeple every ten minutes automatically. Operated by electricity, a magic feathered nightingale perches on a lavender glass tree in the Garden of Aladdin and sings full-throated, joyful tunes. The doll's house contains eleven rooms, Aladdin's Magic garden and Noah's entrance hall. The furnishings throughout the house represent years of effort in collecting in every part of the world. They are in scale as inch to the foot and are probably the most priceless in existence. Photograph shows the prince's bedroom in Colleen Moore's doll house.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes By JEAN NEWTON

MEN AND WOMEN

"A MAN is seldom more manly than when he is what you call unmanly—then his emotion is championship, pity, and courage; the instinctive desire to cherish those who are innocent and unhappy, and defend those who are tender and weak."

Those words bring to my mind the case of a man who let his "manliness" stand in the way of his happiness. It was a question of forgiving his wife for a fault that had humiliated him, that had caused him to lose face with his friends.

The man wanted to forgive and forget, but he had his "self-respect"—he thought it wouldn't be "manly." So he sacrificed the happiness of himself and the woman who loved him.

And don't we women have the same fault? We do not call it "manliness"—it is "pride" or "self-respect" on whose altar we make sacrifices.

It may be a woman friend with whom there is a rift. You miss her companionship, you feel she misses yours. The difference after all is not irreparable. But there is that question of "self-respect" in making the first move. What a man might call his "manliness" deters you from "running after" her.

And if that "self-respect" can stand between you and another woman—what havoc it can work between you and a man, even the man you love! Whatever the hurt or the wrong, coming from the man it attacks your womanliness!

Perhaps a woman, too, is most womanly and most self-respecting when she allows such emotions as pity, courage, love, to sway her, and to subordinate that pride which in a man is called "manliness."

PETER FINDS ANOTHER FRIEND

"DID you and your relatives come down from the Far North alone?" asked Peter of Dotty the Tree Sparrow.

"No," was Dotty's prompt reply. "Slaty the Junco and his relatives came along with us so that we had a very merry party."

Peter pricked up his ears. "Is Slaty here now?" he asked eagerly. "Very much here," replied a voice right behind Peter's back. It was so unexpected that it made Peter jump. He turned to find Slaty himself chuckling as he picked up seeds. He was very nearly the same size as Dotty but trimmer looking. There was no mistaking

"Are you here to stay all winter?" cried Peter.

"I certainly am," was Slaty's prompt response. "It will take pretty bad weather to drive me away from here. If the snow gets too deep I'll just go up to Farmer Brown's barnyard. I can always pick up a meal there, for Farmer Brown's boy is a very good friend of mine. I know he won't let me starve, no matter what the weather is. I think it is going to snow. You know I am sometimes called the Snowbird."

Peter nodded. "So I have heard," said he.

"By the way, Slaty, what do you make your nest of and where do you put it?" asked Peter.

"My nest is usually made of grass and moss and rootlets," replied Slaty. "Sometimes it is lined with fine grass. When I am especially lucky I line it with long hairs. Often I put my nest on the ground and never very far above it. I am like my friend Dotty the Tree Sparrow in this respect. It always seems to me easier to hide a nest on the ground than anywhere else. There is nothing like having a nest well hidden. It takes sharp eyes to find my nest, I can tell you that, Peter Rabbit."

Just then Dotty, who had been picking seeds out of the top of a weed, gave a cry of alarm and instantly there was a fit of many wings as the little feathered folk sought the shelter of the bushes along the edge of the field. Peter sat up very straight and looked this way and looked that way. Crouching flat among the weeds, he saw Black Pussy the Cat. Peter stamped angrily, then with jumps he started for the dear old Brier Patch, lip-perty-lip-perty-lip.

A GOOD START

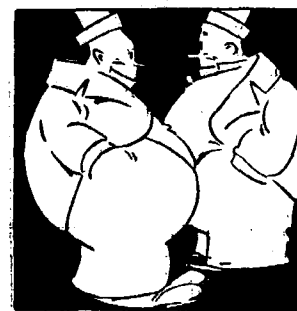

"Why won't you marry me?"
"Because I don't love you."
"Why need that matter? We'd simply have a five-year start on half the people in our set."

TAKING A CHANCE

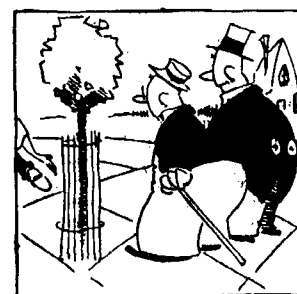

Girl—Do you believe there are germs in kisses?
Young Man—I don't know. But I'm always willing to volunteer for any.

NOT BEING DONE

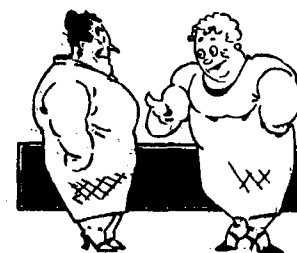

"It would be a lot of trouble."
"What would?"
"If we were all as honest as we expect the other fellow to be."

THE REMNANTS

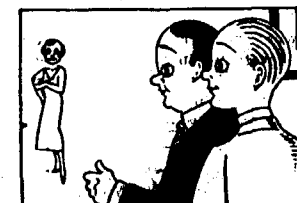

"So the lawyers got about all of the estate. Did Mary get anything?"
"Oh, yes; she got one of the lawyers."

USUAL RUN

Mrs. Townbred—How many servants do you keep?
Mrs. Suburbs—About one out of twelve.

FORESIGHT

"What do you suppose he sees in her that is so attractive?"
"Her wealthy parents, perhaps."

NO USE NOW

"Say, look at my head after taking all that hair tonic. I'm completely bald."
"Well, you don't need hair; you've nothing to protect."

MACHINE AGE

The Sub-Assistant Manager—Remember you are regarded as a mere machine in this place.
The Stenographer—All right. But don't mistake me for the telephone transmitter, cause I won't listen to your chatter.

EASY HANDOUTS

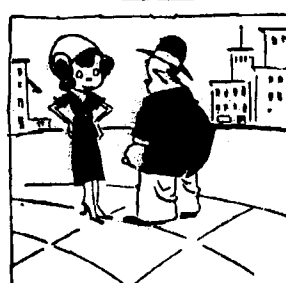

"Did you get a handout in there?"
"Yep. The old lady says, 'I never feeds tramps at de door.' And den I says, most perlitte, 'Dat's all right, ma'am, serve me in de dining room.'"

SEASONABLE

"What in de dickens is youse doin', Weary?"
"I seen a article in de paper 'Autumn Tramps are Pretty' an' I'm fixin' up."

CONVERSATION

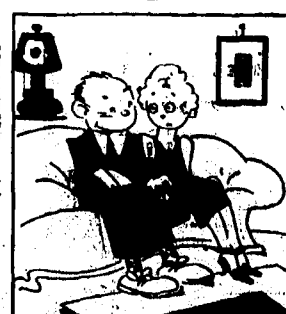

Hubby (anxiously)—But if you buy a costly fur coat how are we ever going to pay for it?
Wife—Now, Tom, don't let's talk about two things at once. Let's talk about the coat.

CONSIDERATE

"It never makes my husband mad if I insist on having my own way."
"Then why don't you do as you please all the time?"
"Cause it never makes him mad."

THAT'S ALL

He—Yes, I expect to make my mark in football this year.
She—On somebody's map, I suppose.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

The new trophy cup purchased by the upper six classes now reposes in the hands of the Juniors. In an inter-class basketball tournament the Juniors, in the final game played recently, took the Senior class by a score of 17-34. The competition was strong in those games but the Juniors had the advantage since their team included practically the whole first squad. However, it was a good game and the future Seniors class of '36 have the distinction of being the first winners of the new trophy.

There have been many evidences of attacks of spring fever around school—with all the grade boys engaging in marble tournaments and the girls in games of hop-scotch but the mildest form that has hit the high school so far is "playing catch."

Whether or not these potential "School Boy Rowers" are going to have a chance to show baseball fans of Grayling what they can do depends on the turnout for baseball practice next week. All thru the state baseball has been received with many of our northern neighbors turning out fine teams. There is no reason why Grayling, too, cannot have a team and so Coach Cornell has called the first practice for next week. In this way, the athletic-minded fellows who usually suffer a let-down after basketball season are given a chance for activity and a way to keep in trim. Of course, practice will have to start on a modest basis but Mr. Cornell expects about 35 fellows to turn out and there is no reason why the possibility of at least a few competitive games cannot be realized this season.

LEONARDS Are Always Good

With early season sales establishing a new high for the company's fiscal period to date, the Leonard Refrigerator Company is apparently well on its way toward another record year, according to Thorwald Sorenson, of Sorensons Furniture store, local Leonard dealers.

"Ever since the introduction of the 1935 line of Leonard household models there has been a noticeable increase in public interest in these products," Mr. Sorenson said. "More people than ever before at this time of year have been visiting our showroom to see the display of the 1935 Leonard cabinets and from the figures received from the factory, this same condition is existing all over the country."

Twelve new Leonards make up the company's line for 1935. Arranged in three groups, these refrigerators incorporate virtually every important electric refrigeration feature which company engineers have perfected. The famous Len-A-Dor foot pedal door opener remains as one of the most popular features ever introduced in the entire industry. Other important advancements which contribute to the superiority of the new Leonard cabinets, according to Mr. Sorenson, include a sliding shelf, service tray, vegetable crisper, special convenience basket, ice tray lifter, refrigerated shelf, cold chest, improved hardware and interior lights. The famous "Ochillometer," for the instant regulation of freezing speeds and refrigerator performance, already proved to be one of the most efficient and convenient of all control panels, has been improved and is an integral part of the new Leonards, it was said.

Anglo-German Conversations Disappointing, Simon Reports; Hitler Demands Return of Colonies, Air and Naval Parity, and Minimum Army of 500,000.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union

FOREIGN SECRETARY SIMON returned to England from his historic talk with Chancellor Hitler, and reported to the cabinet that Germany is seeking return of the colonies she lost in the war and a greatly increased navy. He said that Hitler admits Germany's air force equals that of Britain. Prime Minister MacDonald then called on King George to whom he gave a preliminary report of Simon's talks, which have been described as "disappointing." Hitler made a bold play for Anglo-German understanding, declaring both nations should unite to defend western civilization against Communism and the colored races. Briefly, his demands were:

First—Germany must have an army with a minimum of 36 divisions—500,000 men—as decreed.

Second—Germany wants parity in the air with Britain. Hitler admitted that Germany now possesses equality with Britain. He declared that Russia is using Czechoslovak territory as a European air base. He demanded return of certain Czechoslovak territory and repatriation of 3,500,000 German residents there.

Third—Hitler wants a navy equal to one-third of the British fleet, which is tantamount to 400,000 tons. The British admiralty is opposed to such a ratio and Germany has been invited to bilateral navy discussions in London.

Fourth—Germany wants return of her former colonies. Little encouragement was given Hitler on this score.

Fifth—Hitler refused to have anything to do with an eastern pact, though he is willing to enter non-aggression pacts with Germany's neighbors, as he did with Poland.

Sixth—Hitler is prepared to sign a pact of noninterference in the affairs of Austria, but only if it means non-interference by all powers.

In Berlin demonstrators howled their resentment at death sentences imposed by Lithuania on four Nazis, and only stout police resistance kept the mob from the Lithuanian military court trying 128 Nazis for an alleged plot to start an armed uprising in Memel, former German territory, found them guilty. Eighty-seven others were sent to prison.

As Capt. Anthony Eden, British army expert, begins his conferences with Soviet officials, observers believe the Russians will marshal every resource to convince Eden that the only safe course for the rest of the world is to bring sufficient pressure on Germany to induce her to accept the eastern securities pact. The official press continues to stress that the rearmament of Germany threatens Russia, and that the conflict growing out of any German attack would spread all over Europe and Asia. This is but a confirmation of Livinson's contention that "peace is indivisible." League of Nations circles predict that France, Russia and Czechoslovakia will conclude an eastern pact as an answer to Hitler's new conscript army. Whether any effort will be made to bring Great Britain into this, is not known.

According to a Rome paper that usually speaks with authority, there will soon be held an Anglo-Franco-Italian conference to discuss the rearmament of Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary. This has heretofore been opposed by the countries of the little entente, but it is supposed their views have been altered by recent developments.

FEDERAL expenditures are soaring faster than ever before in peace time history. The end of the first nine months of the fiscal year disclosed expenditures of more than $3,000,000,000. Revenue meanwhile has amounted to only $2,827,000,000, or a little more than half of what is spent. New Deal spending, statistical experts say, has been at an average of $18,000 for every minute, day or night, in the nine months since the fiscal year began, and total expenditures are expected to reach $7,500,000,000 by the end of the year. Unemployment relief has required the $220,000,000 appropriated for this purpose and an additional $498,000,000 from the RFC, making a total this far of $1,708,000,000. PWA is next in the line, having poured out $810,000,000 in nine months. Despite these terrific totals, government credit has not been impaired; the treasury has been able to refund all bonds with approaching maturity, and when the fourth Liberty loan is called for redemption, a move which is expected to be made on April 15, no federal bond will be outstanding with a call date earlier than 1940.

HOUSE leaders are rushing action on the national defense program. Bills designed to strengthen the national defense are being rushed through the legislative hopper. Four navy bills were passed with little opposition and no record votes. These include authorization for expenditure of $38,000,000 in 1936-37 to build up the navy's shore stations on the Pacific coast, Hawaii and Canal Zone, and an increase of 1,000 in the navy's officer strength and provide a system of aviation cadets to take care of a shortage of naval fliers. Secretary Swanson has ordered concentration of the fleet's three most powerful cruisers in a new cruiser division commanded by Rear Admiral A. P. Fairfield, now assistant chief of the bureau of navigation.

REPLACEMENT of the AAA's system of crop control is seen as a future potentiality of a new organization established at the Department of Agriculture under Rexford G. Tugwell.

The organization consolidates federal agencies dealing with soil erosion, and Tugwell is expected to direct the expenditure of about a billion dollars in public works funds on the public land program.

At present plans call for retirement of millions of acres of marginal lands now contributing to surpluses, which experts contend will prove a more effective way of dealing with overproduction than AAA's policy taxing commodities for acreage slashes. The latter is meeting increased opposition, due to rising living costs and increasing competition from foreign producers. There will probably be little immediate change in crop control plans, since the Tugwell program will require considerable time before it can be operated effectively.

DONALD RICHBERG has offered the intervention of NRA in averting a threatened strike of 450,000 bituminous coal miners. The union is demanding a six-hour day and a 10 per cent increase in pay. Duncan C. Kennedy, head of the negotiating committee, has accepted Richberg's offer. This is not the only major labor trouble on the horizon, as Francis J. Gorman, first vice president of the United Textile Workers, has served notice that the recent NRA authorization for a sharp cut in cotton goods production may set the stage for another strike. The slash in output will cut wages 25 per cent, Gorman contends.

HERBERT HOOVER suddenly projected himself into the political picture, and set wagging the tongues of countless politicians and observers in a letter addressed to the California Republican assembly meeting in Sacramento, the former President spoke himself into the limelight with utmost freedom concerning the doings of the Roosevelt administration whose policies he asserted, "are no longer propagandized millennium; they are self-exposed." The Republican party, said Mr. Hoover, has today the greatest responsibility that has come to it since the days of Abraham Lincoln—to raise the standard in defense of fundamental American principles; and he called for a rejuvenated and vigorous Republican organization.

Here are two of the things Mr. Hoover said in arraigaling the present administration:

"The most solemn government obligations have been repudiated. 'The nation is faced with the greatest debt ever known to our country.'"

MOVING swiftly, Marshal Josef Pilsudski inaugurated a virtual Fascist dictatorship over Poland. A new constitution, drafted on semi-Fascist lines, was adopted and the cabinet headed by Premier Kosciuszko stripped of its power. Pilsudski then named Col. Walerzy Slawek as his new premier. No other ministers were changed in the cabinet. It is believed that the marshal is preparing to harden his policy toward Soviet Russia.

THE senate finally got around to passing the "pink slip" bill repealing publicity provisions of the 1934 income tax publicity act. An amendment allowing state and local taxing authorities to examine federal tax returns must be ironed out in conference between the house and senate, but both are agreed that the main publicity clause should be repealed. The slips filled out by millions with their March 15 returns must now be secreted in the files of the Internal Revenue department.

PAY of railroad union men has been restored to the 1931 level, with a return of the last 5 per cent of a 10 per cent cut in 1932. The increase amounts to approximately $90,000,000. The restoration is in line with an agreement reached a year ago when the unions negotiated for a gradual restoration of the old wage scale.

JAPAN steps out of the League of Nations and flanked by her single avowed ally, Manchukuo, she faces the world as the self-chosen preserver of peace in the Orient. Japan's action is the culmination of a series of events started February 24, 1933, when Yosuke Matsuoka led the entire Japanese delegation in a walk-out from the league assembly. Shortly after Japan gave formal notice of her withdrawal from the league because the assembly had censured Japanese aggression in Manchuria. She has advised other powers that she considers herself guardian of the peace in eastern Asia and that outside assistance is neither desired nor invited. In addition, Japan has embarked on an armament policy marked by denunciation of the Washington naval treaty, demands for naval parity with Great Britain and the United States, and armed forces "sufficient to defend, but inadequate to attack."

With considerable ceremony the Soviet government transferred to Japan full ownership of the Chinese Eastern railway and thus ceased to be an opposing factor in the Japanese occupation of Manchuria. In the official residence of Foreign Minister Koki Hirota in Tokyo the sale agreement and general protocol were signed.

CONSIDERABLY mutilated, the administration's $4,880,000,000 work relief bill finally got through the senate by a vote of 69 to 16, and was returned to the house later, to be adjusted in conference. The senators accepted an amendment by Senator Thomas of Oklahoma for a currency expansion of $375,000,000 through the issuance of silver certificates at the $1.20 an ounce monetary value of the treasury's silver stocks instead of the present practice of using the purchase value of the silver.

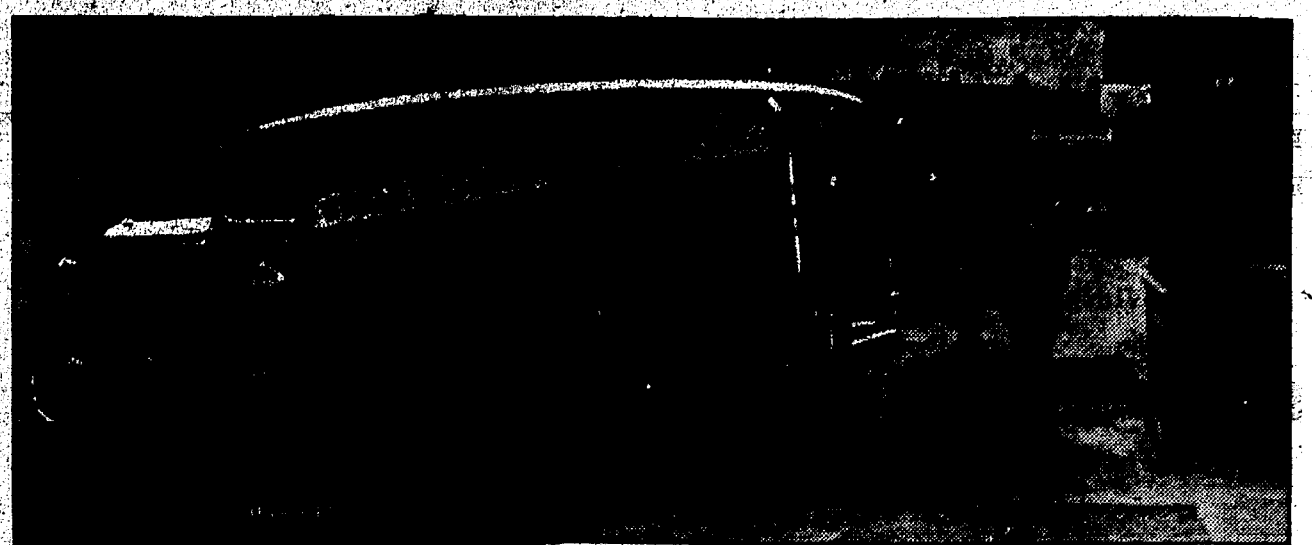

Later the Thomas amendment was stricken out after congressional conferees had deadlocked for forty-eight hours. Members of the silver bloc asserted they would not stand in the measure's path, although Thomas had declared he would filibuster against any attempts to strike out the amendment. Besides eliminating the silver inflation plan, the conference modified the Russell labor compromise amendment to provide that the President shall pre-determine the rate of wages on public buildings to be constructed, and this rate will be submitted to contractors for bids. An amendment providing that all officers and employees receiving more than $5,000 a year will have to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the senate was modified. It now provides that any new administrator or member of any central board will be appointed by the President with the consent of the senate.

Among the senate changes approved were the allocation of the fund to eight general types of projects; continuation of the federal relief administration one year; extension of the Civilian Conservation Corps two years from March 31; continuation of PWA two years from June 16; the George amendment to make funds available in the discretion of the President to administer the agricultural adjustment act; the Russell amendment to authorize farm loans to share croppers, tenant farmers and farm laborers for land purchase.

One day Harry L. Hopkins was reported: "Lying in the Florida sun and thinking up ways he would spend billions as administrator of the work relief fund. The next day, rumors were that Rexford G. Tugwell was to be nominated for the 'biggest spender in history.'"

Later reports from the National Capital were that nobody but the President would be the big boss in the program. Yes, you can take your choice, but it seems likely that the latter is true. Senatorial disapproval of the methods used by the two others mentioned will probably eliminate them from consideration. This strategy has been successful in the past. When a house group became too highly incensed at Public Works Administrator Harold Ickes, they were quieted with the assurance that the President would have complete control of the work relief program, and the furore died out.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

FOR those who are fond of chocolate the following recipe will be a delight.

Chocolate Cookies.

Sift five and one-half cupsful of cake flour with one teaspoonful of soda, sift once more. Beat three eggs slightly, add one cupful of brown sugar and one cupful of granulated sugar, one and one-half cupsful of shortening, melted, eight squares of chocolate, melted. Mix and chill, after making in a roll. Cut in thin slices after standing in the ice chest all night. Add four cupsful of coconut chopped. Bake in hot oven. This makes six dozen cookies.

Carrot Pudding.

This is a dessert well liked in Portugal. Serve with any desired sauce or with cream. Take one-half cupful each of butter and brown sugar, one egg lightly beaten, one cupful of grated raw carrot, two teaspoonfuls of grated lemon peel. Sift one and one-fourth cupsful of flour with one-half teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of ginger. Mix as usual and bake in a buttered pudding pan for one hour. Serve hot.

Chester Burke of Frederic was a caller in Lovells last Thursday.

Edison Enjoyed Jokes

One of Thomas Edison's favorite diversions was to enter his own legal department and humbly apply for a job as an inventor. Another of his ideas of a good joke was to greet a dignified personage by saying, "Hully gee, Johnnie, when did youse blow in?" At other times, to get his mind off his heavy problems for a while, he would mimic the ultra-aristocratic snobs by drawing on an imaginary pair of gloves, carrying something that resembled a cane, and strutting across his office holding his head high, a self-satisfied smirk on his face—much to the enjoyment of his office force.
